Suit for Dunsmuir Millions. Big Enterprise Afoot-Gen. Barnes Worse.

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 17.—Harry Tracy was at 10 o'clock this morning reported to have been found, and the story of his death was expected at any moment. Sheriff Cadihee located the desperado in a lonely cabin, three-quarters of a mile from the junction of the Northern Pacific Palmer out-off and Columbia and Puget Sound road. He was supposed to be there with two companions. Cudihee with six guards waited until 10 o'clock this morning for Tracy or either of his companions to come from the cabin.

tains, and they are arranging to guard all passes through which the fugitive can possibly come. They divided a few miles up the valley, one party as-cending the Wenns Pass, and a party the Natches. The posse is composed of the nerviest and most trustworthy men obtainable here, and all are thor-oughly acquainted with the country.

EXPENSE MONEY OFFERED. Jaynes of the Oregon penitentiary.
Superintendent J. D. Lee met the party at the train. His inquiry as to who had charge of the remains, brought a response from Mrs. Waggoner that she brought the body. He Hotel Metropole asked if she would guarantee the remains to be those of Merrill, and Mrs. Waggoner responded in the affirmative. Superintendent Lee stated that he would ignore any demand for the reward, but would pay her liberally for the trouble of bringing the remains here. The woman made so response, except handing a baggage check for the casket to the superintendent.

The body was removed to the prison, where the box was opened, and the covering over the glass in the casket removed, exposing to signt the face of Merrill, badly decomposed. Many of the guards looked at the remains, and they readily identified the dead convict. At 1:30 this afternoon the casket was conveyed to the prison cemetery and interred without ceremony.

This evening Mrs. Waggoner and Sheriff Deggeller met Superintendent Lee in his office, and the woman made a formal demand for the reward of 1150s. Lee declined to pay the same, offering her $300 for her trouble and expense, and explaining that the reward could only be paid for the capture of the convict, and that she had not captured Merrill, but-had merely found the dead body by accident.

Mrs. Waggoner refused the amount offered, and made a formal written demand for the full reward. This she gave to Mr. Lee to be presented to Gov. Geer on his return from Mount Adams next week. Meanwhile, she will correspond with the Governor and lay her claim before him.

If the claim is not paid she will decide whether to go into court to collect the $1500, or go before the Legislature to secure it.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER'S SUIT. DUNSMUIR MILLIONS AT STAKE

VICTORIA (B. C.) July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edna-Wallace Hopper, the famous actress and daughter of Mrs. Alexander Dunsmuir, is here to sue Premier Dunsmuir for khe portion of the Dunsmuir millions to which she claims she is entitled because of the marriage of her mother to Alexander Dunsmuir, the Premier's brother, shortly before the latter's death. Alexander Dunsmuir left the great bulk of his estate to his wife, but when the wife was on her deathbed an agreement was reached between her and Premier Dunsmuir by which she agreed to set aside her claim in consideration of a certain sum.

Mrs. Hopper, who is accompanied by her legal adviser, Judge Coyne of New York, holds that her mother was not in full possession of her faculties when the agreement was reached, and that the fact that the Premier retained her own lawyer to draw up and execute the agreement precluded her from the interested advice of that official. She Breckenridge of Kentucky blood, and of Mrs. Fred Sharon of Paris, and grandson of the late Lloyd Tevis, walked off today in most unconventional manner and were married. In the eye of the law the young couple, being of full age, had a perfect right to be married when and how they pleased. The marriage license records the fact that the groom is 23 and the bride 22, but to all intents and purposes Addie Murfy and John Breckenridge eloped.

W ASHINGTON. July 17.—Having practically adjusted the question connected with the surrender to the Chinese of the control of the city of Tien-Tsin, this government has been asked to interest itself in the settlement of the grave difficulties growing out of the insistence of some of the powers upon payment of their shares of the war indemnity in gold instead of silver.

The Chinese government is greatly disturbed over this. Minister Wu came early to the State Department today, and had a long interview with Secretary Hay, in the course of which he presented a cablegram from the two leading members of the Chinese court who are primarily in charge of the negotiations. The message brings out for the first time the fact that it is now a difference of method rather than disposition that divides the powers and that all seem ready to do what they can to make it possible for China to carry out her heavy obligations. The cablegram, which is from Viceroys Liu Kun Yth and Chang Tung, is as follows:

"According to reports of conferences had by the foreign ministers at Perhault of the consist of the provinces?

"Attempts to raise revenues from new sources on the part of the provincial authorities have in many cases created local disturbances. In case heavier taxes be imposed, an uprising of the people will be the natural result. Since the various payments admit of no delay on the dates on which they severally fall due, money has to be taken from other funds in order to meet the pressing demand. It has already appeared to be beyond China's ability to make the payments even in silver, in accordance with the the mancial resources of China. When the indemnity question first came up for discussion the total amount was repeatedly reduced. Now the willingness on the part of the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France, either to accept the silver or to pay duties in gold, in spite of the divergence of views, shows that all appre-

TEASONS FOR WITHDRAWAL.

Regarding the withdrawal of the members of the religious orders from tha islands it should not be understood that the Fallippine government is asking to modify or in any manner affect the conduct of religious matters on the part of the Holy See, or on the part of the heads of the orders, or for a compulsory exclusion or proceeding whatever. It is rather that the Philippine government desires social results which it deems of great importance to the wishers of the Filippine popple, and which can be accomplished only by the with the property of the section of the church and worth its own while to carry out if the ecclesiantical authorities having the direction of the religious orders should see fit voluntarily to withdraw them from the islands. Such a voluntary withdrawal cannot be considered a violation of any rights under the Treaty of Faris or otherwise, or any reflection effects to which the persons with the reasons making the withdrawal desirable are not religious or facial relations which the proporty which they hold to the title of those paces and order of the committed to the same; (b) of the corporation; (b) of the total stock of corporation; (b) of the property which they are willing to sell, and of the precise relations to the title of the religious orders should see fit voluntarily to withdrawal desirable and the property which they are willing to sell, and of the precise relations to the title of the religious orders should see fit voluntarily to withdrawal desirable and social relations which the property which they are willing to sell, and of the property which they are willing to sell, and of the property which they are willing to sell, and as well as the needs of the Philippine people.

It is not the United States government which objects to the presence of the friers: it is the Catholic population of the Philippine Islands. The lay Catholic population and the parish priests of native and non-Spanish blood are practically a unit in deeling both to expel the friers and to confiscate their lands. This proposed confiscation without compensation of the church land was one of the fundamental policies of the insurgent government under Aguinaldo.

Recognizing the intensity and practical unanimity of this feeling among the Filipinos, and at the same time desiring to avoid causing loss to the church, the United States government church, the United States government representatives proposed to pay for the lands out of the public funds, if the friars would retire from the islands and give place to other religious orders of their own faith, who might be able to accomplish for their calistics what they their own faith, who might be able to accomplish for their religion what they themselves had so signally failed to accomplish. In making this proposal the United States representatives were well aware that financially it was only of benefit to the church, for the lands are unproductive and held in adverse possession by the natives who refuse to pay rent; while the former congregations of the objections. The frairs now refuse to receive them, and they could only be restored to their parishes by such affirmative governmental action as under our Constitution cannot be taken.

only be restored to the constitution cannot be taken.

It is the desire to accomplish the removal of this cause of disturbance and discord that has led me to approve that clause of your proposal which would involve the government of the Philippines in a large and undefined obligation for the purchase of lands in advance of a specific ascertainment of their values, and of the estimated prices which we cannot reasonably expect to receive from them when we in turn offer them for sale, and to the clauses which would anticipate the authority of Congress in regard to the ascertainment of rentals and damages in the course of occupation, and the conveyance of church lands provided for in your proposal.

UNION PACIFIC FINANCIERING.

NEW ISSUE OF BONDS.

FRY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.! NEW YORK, July 11.—The Union Pacific Resilvoad Company announces a plan for financing the remainder of its purchases of Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific Shares. A year and a half ago, extensive purchases of Northern Pacific Stock were made in the interest of the Union Pacific Company, and the shares acquired were invested in the Oregon Short Line, Company, and the shares acquired were invested in the Oregon Short Line, Company, They now consist of Northern Securities, stock for which the Northern Pacific shares have been exchanged. Since that time the Union Pacific Company has also increased its holdings of Southern Pacific stock.

The Oregon Short Line Rallway Company has created an issue of 4 percent and participating twenty-five-year gold bonds, which are to be secured by the pledge and deposit with the Equitable Trust Company of New York as trustee of ten shares of Northern securities stock for every 11000 face value of bonds issued. The bonds carry 4 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and beginning with the year 1903, are entitled to any dividends and interest which may be paid in cash during each year upon the deposited collateral in excess of 4 per cent. upor, the amount of bonds outstanding. The Short Line company has the option to redeem the bonds at 102½ and interest, upon giving at least three months' notice, the bonds so redeemed to be frawn by lot.

The Present issue of these bonds will be $11.00.000, and holders of the pre-notice, the bonds so redeemed to be drawn by lot.

The present issue of these bonds will be $31,000,000, and holders of the preferred and common stock of the Union Pacific Railroad Company of record August 1, have the privilege of subscribing to those bonds at $9 and interest to the extent of 59 per cent. of the par value of their stock. Arrangements have been made for the sale of such bonds as are not taken by the stockholders. Subscriptions must be made before the close of business, August 15, and accompanied by the payment of $450 for each bond. The ballance due must be paid on or before September 15. Holders who desire to anticipate the second payments will be allowed a discount of $1.65 per bond.

This transaction completes the purchase of Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific stock without increasing the bonded obligations of the Union Pacific Company or its capital account, and leaves the company in a position to retire obligations before maturity at a light premium. The rights to subscribe to the new bonds are estimated to be worth a little over 1 per cent. to Union Pacific stockholders. This calculation is based on about $7 or $8 for the new bonds.

PACIFIC MAIL ELECTION.

HARRIMAN SUCCEEDS TWEED.

INV DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles H. Tweed has resigned as president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and E. H. Harriman has been elected his successor. It is understood that Tweed asked to be relieved of the duties of this office, because of numerous other interests.

The report of the company for the year ended April 30, shows: Gross carnings, $2,023,485; decrease, $1,041,819; expenses, $2,012,499; decrease, $495,147; net carnings, $16,547; decrease, $495,147; in the following in the deficit shown, Tweed says, in part:

"This unfavorable showing is largely the result of the low rates which prevalled during the entire year to and from Mexican and Central American ports, which, in part, resulted from the suspension of former traffic relations with the Panama Rallroad Company, which since the close of the fiscal year, have been resumed. The rates to said Mexican and Central American ports had, fallen to a point where it was deemed advisable to reduce the service, and but seventy-three trips were made on these lines during the year just ended, against 115 trips during the preceding year. There were also six trip less of trans-Pacific lines, which fact contributed to the shrinkage in the year's receipts.

"With the exception of indebtedness amounting to $634,804, representing amounts borrowed from the Southern Pacific Company, to make payments on new steamers, the company is free from floating debts, other than current expenses. The company's fleet and property have been maintained at a high standard of efficiency during the year."

Submits Plan of Action to the Convention.

Ohio, Illinois and Iowa Miners Decide to Support Proposals of Mitchell.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) July 17.—If the voice and influence of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers hall prevail with the members of his organisation, there will be no general wrike of the organisation. The chances of such a step being taken are now very remote. In a speech in the convention this afternoon, Mitchell advised strongly against a strike, and irred that the bituminous miners contine at work, and that a system of asrised strongly against a strike, and streed that the bituminous miners contine at work, and that a system of assessment upon the members of the ories, which he outlined, be carried into fifeet as the best means of affording ild and support to the striking anthratise men in the East.

His recommendations, if adopted by he convention this afternoon would have settled the entire question, for shigh the convention was called and si immediate adjournment would have collewed.

A motion to adopt the suggestions of President Mitchell provoked a long deside; in which the general sentiment was against the order for a strike. The men of the anthractic regions inally made a request that they be thiowed to hold a caucus to determine spon an expression of opinion as to what they thought the convention hould do, and asked an adjournment of the convention for this purpose. Their request was granted, and the diournment taken. The men who were favor of a strike were in a decided minority in the convention.

At a caucus of the Illinois delegation seld tonight it was determined to op-

MITCHELL'S PROPOSALS.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) July 17.—At the meeting of the United Mine Workers today President John Mitchell strongly opposed the ordering of a sympathetic strike and advocated in its place the following policy:

(1.) That the treasurer of the order be directed to appropriate $50,000 for the relief of the anthracite miners.

(2.) That the unions appropriate for the same purpose as large a sum for the relief of the anthracite minera.

(2.) That the unions appropriate for the same purpose as large a sum in they can afford.

(3.) That assessments of 31 per week be levied on all members of unions.

(4.) That all officers of the national districts drawing a salary of 300 a month of over contribute 25 per cent. of their salaries.

(5.) That an appeal be made to all trade unions and citizens generally to aid the cause of the miners.

(6.) That an address to the American people be issued appealing to the American people to bring such pressure to bear as will compel the operators to submit to arbitration.

EMAY COMBINE AGAINST TRUSTS.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS .- P.M.]

ONDON, July 17 .-- [By Atlantic Cable.] Details of an important move by Russia which have evidently been suppressed hitherto by the censor have transpired in London. This move is no less than a proposal by the Imperial government for an international conference to deal with trusts.

Baron de Staal, Russian Ambassador in London, about ten days ago, presented to the British government a note from M. De Witte, the Russian Minister of Finance, which note was sent also to all the powers that signed the Brussels, sugar convention, proposing that these powers should consider, in common, means to protect international commerce against artificial depression of prices, not only by government measures such as export bounties or the control of production, but also by the much more dangerous processes adopted by trusts, private undertakings or cartels, which tend artificially to influence the international market.

This explains the mysterious reference made in the Financial Messenger of St. Petersburg early this week, to a recent note of M. DeWitte which the paper said "is an application, in the economic domain of the principles of The Hague conference." The Financial Messenger says that De Witte's note protests against Russia being placed on the same footing as those states which grant export premiums to the sugar industry, and also contests the right of such States to impose special taxes on sugar of Russian orgin, as being contrary to the most favored nation clauses.

Commenting on the note the Financial Messenger says: "Failing an international agreement there is only one remedy, namely, increased customs duties. In proposing common international action, Russia proves that she would prefer not isolated legislation in her own interests but a joint agreement based upon the general welfare and solidarity of all the states."

* the new agreement is the recognition of the union and defining what is warehouse work. A year ago trucking of grain to barges and dumping it on docks was not considered warehouse work, but the new agreement specifies that all work in grain shall be termed warehouse work. It is expected there will be quite a fight, as the warehouse owners say that they intend to employ men without asking whether or not they are members of the union. All of the warehousemen assert they will stand together.

During the hearing Mme. De Gast was allowed to address the court.
Turning to Maitre Barboux, she asked him if he retracted his assertion, and when he made no reply, she continued:
"He keeps silent, because he knows
I am a widow. Coward! Coward!"
The scene caused great excitement.
After the parties to the suit left the Palais de Justice, Prince Sagain, who had accompanied Mme. De Gast to court, meeting Maitre Barboux on the street, struck him, saying: "You are an insulter of women," at the same time handing his card to Maitre Barboux, who replied: "Very well, you him for assault."

LAKE BATHED DOORSTEPS.

CHICAGO. July 17.—A phenomenon known to Geneva and other Swiss lakes as a seiche has made its appearance on Lake Michigan. In a queer convulsion the lake sent a big wave landward, and residents along the shore suddenly found the water lapping at their doorsteps. All along the lake front the waves swept up against breakwaters or over the beach. Steamers were tossed about at their docks, smaller craft were thrown on the shore, boats were broken, and in several instances loss of life was narrowly averted.

Then it will open the way to the usual pig pen and will stand by to see if the creatures forsake their manners and elest mud and the trough. Probably the pigs will elect to stay in the clean and wholesome yard. The obloquy that these beasts have fallen under is not of their seekins. Men have abused them by confining them in ill-kept places and feeding them on refuse. The pig in its netural state is not unclean. It is dirty when it is kept in a pen because it cannot be otherwise. If afflicted with flies or vermin it has no resource but to lie in the mud, and as to its food, if it has nothing but the fermenting refuse of the house it must eat that or has nothing but the territering returns of the house it must eat that or starve. When left at large swine do not usually seek filth and slime. When free to roam the woods they are no more unclean than cattle. It needs little experimenting to convince of that fact.—(Brooklyn Eagle.

Games of Tag.

Swiss children make believe that the pursuer in the game of chase or "tag" is invested with an imaginary evil is invested with an imaginary evil is private when a power is subject to certain charms. For instance, if they touch cold iron, a gate latch, a horse shoe, or an iron nail, the power of the demon is broken. Sometimes they make gold or sliver their charm. They play "cross-chase," in which the runner darts across the patch between the pursued and the pursuer becomes the object of the catcher, and the former one gets free. Again, if the runner squats, he is free, or he may squat three times, and after that the charm is lost. The chaser often disguises himself, and unless the captive is banished from the game. They also play "turn-cap"—the chaser wearing his cap with the lining outside.

Another Swiss game is called "pot of gold." One of the swiftest runners takes a stick and pretends to dig for a pot of gold. He works away for a few minutes, then cries out. "Twe found it!" and runs away with it at the top of his speed. He has the advantage of a few paces at the start, for while he is digging the other players are grouped behind him at least one rod distant. The player who catches him gets the pot of gold, and becomes in turn subject to the robbers. This keeps every player on the chase continually.—[Indianapolis News.

In striking contrast to the publ views of Secretary Shaw, in regard to tenure of office in public institu sion Commissioner Eugene F. War who has adopted a system of promo to make a permanent feature. The system is explained in the following letter of instructions to the spec committee on promotions:

"I want you to pick out the best men you can find in the bureau for each place, three from which I can select. I want to promote for merit. I want to establish an incentive. Therefore you will not overlook a quiet man who attends to his duty. Do not forget the man who has no statesman interceding for him. Remember the old soldier, and preference. member the old soldier, and prefet him, when his merits and capability are equal. Give no precedence to po-litical pull, and do not let religion or nativity cut any figure. When merits are equal, and only when equal, take a Republican instead of a Democrat."

This is the right kind of talk. It s logic, it is common sense, it is good that some in government employ at Washington—who, having perhaps obcal influence—have become careles and indifferent, and neglect their best energies. That only shows that appointed to office. DON'T MEGLECT TO REGISTER. election laws there must be a complete re-registration of voters every two years, and in the even-numbered years. The registration this year, up to the present time, is comparatively light. It appears that the total num ber of names registered to date is about 27,000 in the city and county of Los Angeles. It is estimated that the total number of voters in the city and thus apparent that unless there shall be a material increase in the proportionate number of registrations, in the near future, many of the qualified lectors of the city and county will lose their votes at the coming election

For this reason, if there were no other reason, every qualified voter of Los Angeles who has not already registered should see to it at once tha his name is properly entered upon the Great Register. Those who delay until the last minute will subject themselves to needless annoyance, and will run the risk, moreover, of losing their votes through failure to get registered

SEWAGE SUGGESTION.

A in another column of The Times appears an interesting and apparently son, in regard to the proposed new sewer system for Los Angeles, Mr. on, who has had experience in this line shows that it would be much cheaper and better in every way for purifying sewage which has been in uccessful use for a number of years various cities of this country and in England. The process referred to is inexpensive, effective and is particularly suitable for local conditions, be cause the raw material for filtration beds is abundant, and the purified wagation purposes. Again, in this secof the filter beds is absent.

It does certainly seem to be absurd that we should turn sewage water water into the ocean, in a section where water is worth, for irrigation, from $1000 to $2000 an inch. By adopting the plan suggested, we should be killing three birds , with one stone, as it were-saving water protecting the beach resorts from pollution by sewage, and saving a large amount of money, which, as Mr. Closson suggests, might be profitably expended in parks and boulevards, a library and other long-looked-for and

One of the saddest episodes of the insurrection in the Philippines is the re-tirement of Gen. Jacob Smith under a cloud. That the President and Secre-tary of War are entirely justified in their comments on the findings of the court-martial in his case no one will be inclined to question, and yet this does not make the sorrow any the less. Gen. Smith has spent a lifetime in the service of his country, and has made a record to be proud of. He was a soldier when many of the soldiers of toere in knickerbockers, and it is day were in knickerbockers, and it is indeed hard lines for such an officer to be compelled to go out of the service as this gallant man is going. The country will find many excuses for Gen. Smith, even if he is retiring un-der a cloud, and when his side of the der a cloud, and when his side of the case is better understood it is entirely likely that he will be found less of a sinner than appears in the record. The guerrilla warfare in the distant islands has had many trying features for a commander to contend against, and the countrymen of Gen. Smith will make allowances for those conditions, despite the fact of his retirement in the manner in which he has been re-

The gang of pushers now engaged in setting up Gage pins in the political alley are already fagging. They find to their discomfiture that their pins won't stay set. Now and then an unexpected ten-strike knocks the whole bunch, in a way that is demoralizing to the high of the push. They find that things cannot be gauged on the lines of the Governor's present standard. The Republican party of California is too Republican party of California is too big to be run by a little gang of am-bitious pushers. The sconer the push discovers that there are other things paramount to official plums, in the minds of independent Republicans, the more easily will the push readjust itself to the conditions of today.

In the matter of civil-service opera-tions, according to the Roosevelt ideals, Mr. Shaw is a misfit. He may be a loyal partisan and perhaps a shrewd "politition," but he is away off on practical business lines. If he is correctly quoted, he would have the business ends of the government in the hands of novices all the time. His abourd claim that five years in public absurd claim that he years in public service impairs one for further work as a públic servitor, is proof that he is just one Shaw too many for the good of the public service. It might be well to make the tenure of his own holding as brief as possible, just to see how the thing works when applied to him-

When the owner of a horse resorts to norse, it is better to buy one than to attempt to make one by using too tight over-check reins. The over-check, when immoderately used, is needlessly cruel. It does not deceive anybody as to the natural bearing of the horse.

Superintendent of Public Instruc-tion—Charles P. Cary, Delevan.
Railroad Commissioner—John W.

Railroad Commissioner—John W. Thomas, Chippewa.
Insurance Commissioner—Zeno M. Host, Milwaukee.
Gov. Lafollette was renominated over John M. Whitehead by an overwhelming majority. With two exceptions the ticket as a whole went through as figured out in advance. These were the nominations for State. Treasurer and Railroad Commissioner. John Kempf of Milwaukee won the contest for State Treasurer by the aid of the "Stalwart" faction, who switched their votes before the ballot closed. Joseph G. End of Sheboygan had been looked upon as sure of nomination. John W. Thomas of Chippewa landed the nomination for Railroad Commissioner over John Swenholt, the slate candidate, in a similar way.
Gov. Lafollette was given a great sioner over John Swenholt, the slate candidate, in a similar way.

Gov. Lafollette was given a great ovation on being escorted to the convention hall, after being notified of his nomination. The feature of his speech of acceptance was a stinging rebuke to those of the party who falled to support the principles laid down in thet last platform. He also warned the members of the party against supporting any man aspiring to a place in the Legislature, who would not agree to stand by the platform.

The Staiwarts, while apparently chagrined over their overwhelming defeat, will not bolt. They will continue their organization indefinitely, and will carry the fight for United States Senator John C. Spooner into the Assembly districts, and will not rest until the last vote is polled on election day.

The trouble arose at a performance last night in the Grand Arena Palace. Wester, who was in the full uniform of a captain on the general staff, and wearing his decorations, disturbed the seance of a mind-reader. Casper, who is the manager of the establishment, remonstrated with the captain and demanded an apolegy. This Wester refused, and Casper said the officer's conduct was ungentiemanly and disgraceful. The captain then challenged the American, who accepted, and repaired to the meeting place at 5 o'clock this morning with his seconds, including the secretary of the United States legation, Joseph Muir.

Wester falled to appear, and as a consequence will undoubtedly be forced to retire from the army. Casper has been the recipient of many congratulations.

Capt. Wester was the military at-taché to the legation of Sweden and Norway at Washington at the time of the outbreak of the war between the United States and Spain. He went through that war as he did through the war between Turkey and Grecce. He was attached to Gen. Shafter's headquarters as a foreign quest.

SUBSTITUTE FOR NEW SEWER SYSTEM.

CITIZEN SUGGESTS SEWAGE SHOULD BE PURIFIED.

In This Way Money and Water Would Be Saved and the Beach Resorts Protected from Pollution-The Plan in Successful Use in Many Cities.

The following communication has been received from a citizen of Los Angeles who has had experience in the stitute for the more elaborate sewer system under discussion:

For the continued progress of Los Angeles extensive public improvements are imperative. Additional schools, new bridges, storm drains, sewers for the unsewered section are immediate necessities. An adequate library building, system of boulevards immediate necessities. An adequate library building, system of boulevards and parkways, and a system of subways through the business section would be wise investments for this community. The writer is in full sympathy with a policy of broad municipal improvement, which would make Los Angeles what it ought to be—the most attractive place of residence in the United States. He believes, however, that the proposed new outfall sewer to the ocean, at an estimated cost of over-$660,000, would represent an unnecessary expenditure, most of which might better be devoted to other uses. A quarter of a million dollars wisely expended in parkways and boulevards would add immeasurably to the attractiveness of Los Angeles, and another two hundred and fifty thousand would provide a public library building comparable to those now under way in such minor centers of civilization as Oakland and Seattle.

Sankary science has in recent years perfected a process of sewage purification, which is inexpensive, effective, and particularly available because the raw material for fitration and particularly available under local conditions—particularly available because the raw material for filtration beds is locally abundant; because trigation demands give value to the purified effluent; and because the difficulty sometimes experienced in the East from the freezing of the filter beds is, of course, absent. This process is in actual operation in several cities, such as Meridan, Ct.: Brocton and Gardiner, Mass.; Woonsocket and Pawtucket, R. I.; Plainfield, N. J.; Oberlin, O., and in the case of certain drains or brooks I.: Plainfield, N. J.: Oberlin, O., and in the case of certain drains or brooks which would otherwise pollute the water supply of Boston. The same general process applied to the purification of municipal water supplies which are more or less contaminated with sewage is in use in a large number of important cities, notably London, Hamburg, Altona, Breslau, Chemnitz, Abany, N. Y.: Lawrence, Mass. (See Hazen: "The Filtration of Public Water Supplies." N. Y., 1900.)

The effectiveness of this method of

Hamburg, Altona, Breslau, Chemnitz, Abany, N. Y.; Lawrence, Mass. (Bee Hazen: "The Filtration of Public Water Supplies." N. Y., 1900.)

The effectiveness of this method of filtration is amply demonstrated. Hamburg and the near-by city of Altona both take their water supply from the Elbe, a stream which is polluted with the sewage of a population of about four million people. The cholera epidemic of 1892 killed $500 residents of Hamburg, which city was then using the water in its raw state: whereas, Altona, using sand-filtered water, although taken at a worse point further down the stream, escaped the visitation. The lesson was not lost on Hamburg, which by night and day work rushed a similar system of filters to completion. The death rate from typhoid fever in that city is now only about one-seventh of what is was previously. In Lawrence, Mass., where statistics are also available, deather from typhoid fever have decreased in about the same-ratio since the installation of sand filters.

Whether in the case of polluted river water or of ordinary sewage, the essential feature of the process is not so much mere filtration. In the mechanical sense, as the destruction of the organic matter and bacteria present. The seepage through sand is effective mainly as a means of bringing the organic particles into immediate contact with agencies which change them into inorganic matter. What occurs is the conversion of the organic matter into introus or nitric acid, by the action of certain classes of bacteria combined with the action of atmospheric oxygen, present in the intersatices of the gravel. Incidentally, this process is destructive to the bacteria originally present in the sewage. This utilization of certain classes of hateria to annihilate the bacteria that render sewage dangerous is, in a sense, analogous to the utilization in horticular practice of a species of a parasite to destroy the white cottony scale.

In order to bring about this almost automatic purification, the sewage is allowed to seep through either nat resurverse applications of sewage to its surface.

From 95 to 38 per cent, of the organic matter in sewage is by this process of intermittent filtration converted into hermless inorganic matter. The water which seeps out through the underlying drains is nurer than the water supply or many cities, and there could not be the alighbest would obtains to the could not be

WHO ARE MOST WORTHY BOYS AND GIRLS?

WOULD-BE BENEFACTOR WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Large List of Deserving Ones to Select From—You Pay Your Money and Take Your Choice—Surprising Changes in Scholarship Score.

Who are the most worthy boys and girls engaged in THE TIMES free scholarship contest? That is the question that a gentieman writing from Ventura, to the scholarship mangare of The Times would like to have answered. This is what he says:

"Dear Sir: Will you kindly tell me the names of two or three of the most worthy of the boys and gisk who are working for your prizes? I expect to subscribe, but wish to help some one whose circumstances need it."

From so large a number of worthy boys and girls as are engaged in The Times scholarship contest it is hard to whose circumstances need it."

From so large a number of worthy boys and girls as are engaged in The Times scholarship contest it is hard to select several that are more worthy than the rest. Only about not-ship for those competing are personally known to the scholarship manager, and it would hardly be fair for him to single out two or three for special favors, as The Times aims to conduct this contest fairly and impartially. So far all of the competitors have proved themselves worthy of assistance. They are upon the whole an exceptionally fine lot of youngsters and all of them need all the assistance they can get.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

Notices have been posted prohibiting the shooting of game on the National City and Otay ranches. Special game wardens will be appointed to see that the game laws are strictly enforced.

LOCAL PRIDE

ENGRAGE IN the contest.

LOCAL PRIDE.

Some of the different towns or localities are very loyal to their own candidates for scholarship honors. For instance, a lady writing from Pasadena says:

"Please add these coupons to No. 6, Elsie Anderson, of Pasadena seeking a scholarship, I will help her what I can, although unacquainted with her."

Buch loyalty to a home candidate is to be commended. Miss Anderson is rolling up a magnificent score, notwithstanding the fact that Edwin Fussell is dividing the patronage of the Crown City with her, and rapidly forging to the front; and John Burbaw, another candidate from the same city, is also staying in the race with bulldog tenacity, although not making so rapid progress as Miss Anderson and Master Fussell.

HELP FROM STRANGERS.

HELP FROM STRANGERS.

HELP FROM STRANGERS.

That self-help begets other help is strikingly illustrated by the numerous strikingly illustrated by the numerous tetres of encouragement that reach the scholarship department of The Times in behalf of struggling contestants personally unknown to the writers and contributors of support. Here is a characteristic communication from a kind lady of Boyle Heights:
"Please accept these few coupons for Miss Florence Darch; also my monthly subscriptions following this month. I am unknown to the young girl, but wish to help her a little."
Here is a note from a lady in Phoenix, Ariz., who has been helping Miss Violet May Dawson from the start, although unacquainted with Miss Dawson or any of her folks:
"I hope Miss Dawson will succeed in her desire to obtain a scholarship in the Cumnock School, I received a note from her stating her desire and thanking me very kindly for helping her."

Consulting Engineer Smith of New York has been here investigating the proposition, and the announcement is made upon his departure. Elaborate _preparations had been made for the coal bunkers.

FUGITIVES DISAPPEAR. The two Halls and J. Marshall Brooks, the escaped felons, have thus far baffled their pursuers in Mexican territory. They have not been seen since Monday noon. and all of them need all the assistance they can get.

The name of the would-be benefactor would be published, so that the contestants could tackle him individually or collectively, and afford him an opportunity to judge for himself as to their respective merits, but he has expressly requested that his note be regarded as confidential.

Doubtless there are some who are in more needy circumstances than cthers, but it is not in the province of the scholarship manager to discriminate between them. All he can do is to recommend the whole bunch as being worthy of help.

If Ventura had a candidate of its own, perhaps the gentleman writing from that place could more easily have made up his mind whom to styport. The boys and girls of the bean country seem to be too busy cutting fruit to engage in the contest.

BLOW AT AGRICULTURE.

Another reason for our opposition is the fact that the proposed plan of reciprocity with Cuba by a reduction of the duty on sugar would constitute in essence an abandonment of the protective principle, although it removes only one-fifth of the duty on raw sugar imposed by the Dingley law. This abandonment would be most unhappy because applied to the pursuit of agriculture in the most conspicuous instance in which specific and manifest protection is given to the farmer, and at the moment when the sugar beet and sugar-cane industry is not only in its infancy, but in an infancy so lusty and promising as to demonstrate the certainty of a rapid and prodigious growth. This industry exhibits in the most perfect form yet known the most approved principle of protection.

The proposition is to undertake to insure commercial and industrial prosperity in Cuba, a foreign country, and a foreign government. If we undertake it, when and where are we to stop? The proposition is a startling one, entirely outside of our governmental functions and our constitutional power. The proposition is a startling one, entirely outside of our governmental functions and our constitutional power. The proposition in plies that at the expense of our own labor, our own capital and our own industry, and largely at the expense of a single American industry, without any benefit whatever to the American people, we are asked to extend the paternal hand to a foreign people who are not in distress, whose labor is fully employed at wages? To per cent, greater than it has ever before received, on the ground that having given them liberty we are morally obligated to insure their industrial and commercial prosperity even at the accrifice of our own interests.

It does not give commercial advantage to any foreign product which comes into competition with our own products. It does not seek an exchange of products which deprives any American artisan of his work or any American farmer of an opportunity to profitably till his soil. It is the corollary of the greater policy of protection. This was explicitly declared by President McKinley in his last speech to the American people in the following words:

"By sensible trade arrangements which will not interrupt our home production, we should extend the outlets for our increasing surplus."

It was also declared by the last Republican National Convention as follows:

"We favor the associated policy of reciprocity so directed as to open our markets on favorable terms for what we do not ourselves produce in return for free foreign markets."

Reciprocity, as proposed by the Grape-Nuts.

A lady says, "To say that Grape-Nuts Food has been a help to me is putting it very mild indeed. For seven years I was an invalid suffering from extreme nervousness and weak, tired, exhausted feeling. I was compelled to lie down several times each day and the least exercise exhausted my and the least exercise exhausted me, I was also unable to sleep nights.

I read many times of the remarkable results from the use of Grape-Nuts Food and finally decided to try

It. I ate Grape-Nuts three times a day in different styles for about three months, the twice a day, and have realized a standarful benefit. I have grown strong and almost entirely well. Can do all my own work, and seldom have to lie down until I go to bed at night, then I enjoy restful aleep.

Men's Diseases

All Are Curable

There's no drawing the line between curable and incurable diseases. Each individual case must be considered. Most doctors claim that among that class of diseases peculiar to men, one or two are incurable. This liar to men, one or two are incurable. This idea is wrong. I have demonstrated that it is wrong, for I cure all diseases of men. The truth is, that some cases of curable diseases are incurable, and some cases of so-called incurable diseases are easibly curable by the right methods. I by no means claim the ability to cure any and every case that may come to my office, but I claim to cure most of the cases that others cannot cure, and I always refuse treatment where conditions indicate that I will be unable to obtain thorough and lasting results.

Stanographers' Meeting.

At a special meeting of the Los Angeles Stenographers' Association yesterday afternoon Miss Cora B. Mills, a former court reporter and now secretary for Cosmo Morgan, was elected president. Miss M. A. Newkirk, presented an interesting paper on "How Can We Change Present Rates?" The next regular meeting of the association will be held the second Tuesday in September at a place yet to be determined. The absence of so many members on vacations has caused the August meeting to be abandoned, but by September it is hoped to secure permanent quarters. The association is but six months old, and at present has about sixty members.

For several years previous to his departure for college, four years ago, Jones was an acknowledged leader in the student life of this city. In the High School his record for scholarship was good, he being active in the debating and other literary societies. In the social side of school life he held a prominent place, and he was a favorite at all the gatherings of the younger set. Young Jones won many laurels as an all-around athlete, and was always placed on the basehall and football teams of the High School. Deceased was a son of Dr. and Mrs. Cummins B. Jones of No. 2302 South Flower street, and his family is grief-stricken over the tragic affair. The fatal accident is peculiarly pathetic because the young man was to have been home within a few days, and there was to have been a family reunion here. His work at the College of Mines ended on the 16th inst. and he was preparing to return to the city of his family and friends at once. His parents arrived from the East but two days ago. Dr. Jones having rone to Ohio for his wife and then paid their son a week's visit on the way home. About three months ago the dead student was severely burned in a fire at his boarding-house, but he recovered sufficiently to close his year's work at the college. If recovered, the body will be brought to Los Angeles for interment.

Well Known in Los Angeles.

Ewing Jones was one of the most widely-known and popular young men in Los Angeles, and the news of the untimely ending of his promising career will come as a shocking sadness to hundreds. He was practically raised here, coming from Ohio as a boy and receiving his elementary education at the Thirtieth-street school. Then for three years he attended the local High School, which he left to prepare for college by private study. He entered Stanford University, where a year's study caused him to select mining engineering as his vocation, and he quit college and sought practical expacience in Northern California mines.

wonder with any hits, or runs, either. They did manage to get six swats, but only two came in the same inning, and it is easy enough to imagine what didn't happen. On the contrary, Mc-Partlin was bumped for nine hits, one being a home run by Unglaub, with Sheehan on the base ahead of him. Mac had only two bad innings, the visitors getting three nits without a run in one, and four hits and three runs in the other. While the Looloos are charged with five errors. Toman's two and Raymer's did not figure in the score, but Hanion's and Reilly's materially helped one run.

The Tail Ends got three successive singles in the third inning, but with the bases full and only one out, they could not score, a fast double play by Toman, Raymer and Hanion killing their chances. In the fourth inning, however, they won the game.

Eagan was thrown out and an infield grounder to Toman, and then Sheehan singled past McPartlin. Ungiaub then went to bat and swiped the bail for a fine home run over the left-field fence, driving in Sheehan. McPartlin then passed Graham to first. Thomas scratched a slow one to Reilly, and in throwing the bail to second to bead off Graham, it bounced off his shoulder. Graham ran to third, and Raymer had the ball there in plenty of time, but Reilly reached slowly out to meet Graham with a hit over second. In the fifth Hildebrand hit safely to right, and Eagan followed with an easy one to Hanion. Bill ran up on the ball, and thinking he intended to make the out on first, no one covered second. Bill threw the ball to second, however, and no one being there, Hilde kept on to third, and accord on Reilly's error of Unglaub, and beat the ball to first. Householder forced him at second on a grounder to Casey, and Reilly sent Householder forced him at second on a grounder to Casey, and Reilly sent Householder forced him at second on a grounder to Casey, and Reilly sent Householder forced him at a double past Sheehan, and Eddle scored our only run after Doyle's catch of Raymer's long fix to center.

advantage of her speed. Capt. Wedgwood of the Marie is at Catalina, but will return on Saturday to clean up for the regatta, and as the course is what he has been lenging for, it is expected that he has reasons for freeling comfortable as "scratch boat." Commodore Dodge carried off first without his handicap last month in the Oeborne, but in the short beat to windward will not have the best course for his boat. The Shark, Herbert Pease, skipper, is a new factor over the last races, being a double-ender, with enormous sall area, and especially fast in light weather. The Enda has a square bow, is the heaviest yeach in the fleet, and is consequently obliged to give the modern boat a handicap on measurement, but the Rice brothers will sail with but one addition to the crew, and are hoping for a gale. The Katrina broke her bridle at the start of the last race, and will probably give a better account of herself Sunday. The Helene has been showing fine speed in squardon cruise, any may surprise some of the yachtsmen on a beam wind.

Last year the Eagle won the series of three races on points, last month she was distanced, and as she measures first from scratch, is a boat to be reckoned.

of Toledo, O.

B. F. Long, City Marshal of Ontario, came to Los Angeles yesterday morning with a picture of a man of that name and residence, whom he said was his cousin. Long left for Downey in the afternoon, and on arriving there in the afternoon, and on arriving there found the body already interred, but those who had seen the corpse noticed a remarkable likeness to the man depicted in the photograph. Not knowing what to do, he sent a telephone a remarkable likeness to the man depicted in the photograph. Not knowing what to do, he sent a telephone message to the Coroner, asking for advice. Dr. Holland replied that it was now entirely beyond his sphere, but that in case disinterment proved the Gilbert of the picture to be Gilbert, the midnight markuder, the funda left in the bank were ample to cover all necessary expenses. It is probable that the body will be disinterred, and, if possible, identification made. Long says that when Gilbert disappeared from Toledo he left a wife and two children, and although his course could not be traced exactly, he was known to have come to the Pacific Coast.

The officers have a letter to Gilbert received at No. $17 East First street, his former residence, on June 3. It is signed by Mrs. Anna Capman of No. 21345 West First street, and implored him to come to her aid; also, incidentally, to pay her back $10 which she claimed he owed her. The woman pleaded dire poverty, and said she was in urgent need of the money. Altogether the letter expressed friendship of a very close nature, but when seen last night Mrs. Capman disavowed any such regard as her missive portrayed. She said:

"I wrote the letter that way to make him come and pay up. Of course, had I known it was to fall into any one else's hands. I would have worded it very differently. I am sorry that I wrote it as I did, because it seems to indicate that I knew him well, which I did not. Personally, I scarcely knew him at all. He used to come here and pay quite a good deal of attention to my housekeeper, and as he always appeared to be a gentleman, and to have money, I readily loaned him some when he asked for it. And when he did not elther show up or send the money when it fell due, I took the 'friendly' method of trying to get it back. As to his past, or his connections, or even as to his business, I can say nothing, for I do not know."

Other than these meager clews, nothing has so far been revealed to lift the curtain of mystery which surrounds Gilbert's tragic

A necessary qualification is that applicants shall have had a High School education or its equivalent, and already a number of this season's High School graduates have entered the lists. General information, rather than profundity of learning, will govern in the examinations. There will be no catch questions, the effort being to learn what the applicants do not know than how deep their learning may be. The age limit is from 18 to 30 years, and it cannot be stretched.

By reason of the high standing of the Los Angeles library among similar institutions throughout the country, there is a constantly increasing number of applicants for positions, and the standard of excellence that is required is accompanied by a gradual increase in the salaries paid.

Garbage Accumulation.

Residents of San Mateo street registered an emphatic complaint at the Health Office yesterday against the manner in which-the collection of garbage is being conducted on that street, in the vicinity of Seventh street. They say the street is lined with garbage cans, filled to overflowing, the contents of which have festered in the hot sun for several days, to the pollution of the air and the spread of disease. The complaints went so far as to say that collections of refuse in some cases have not been made for two wpeks. The condition is frightfulry they say, and they pray for relief. For relief, the residents were instructed to telephone the contractors. Main 495, and the Health Office probably will investigate the conditions. There are other streets in the same predicament as to garbage.

The defendant did not appear at the trial in person, but was represented by Walter F. Haas, Esq., who had filed an answer for his client, denying all of plaintiff's stremous al-legations. Defendant offered no testimony, and it is said that he gave up the fight when a certain one of his letters was sprung on him. This letter is so vile that it is not only sickening, but might lay its author liable to heavy punishment by the postal authorities Haas's particular mission was to watch property interests. Stassforth, although reputed to be worth $200,000, aithough reputed to be worth $200,000, is probably worth about half that amount, of which $75,000 is community property. Under stipulation Mrs. Stassforth secures, with her divorce, property aggregating $35,000. Her attorney is Earl Rogers, Esq.

town and back. As for clothes, at times she was not decently clad, and although worth more than $50,000, he would not allow a single window shade in his home to be raised, lest the sun would bleach his carpets and curtains, and mar his furniture. He made his wife wear his cast-oft underclothes, and compelled her and her mother at all times to use the back stairs to save the carpets on the front ones.

When he took his wife to a restaurant, says she, he would never call for more than one order, which he would divide with hor.

To save painter's bill, he has made Mrs. Stassforth take a plece of broken class and scrape varnish off the doors, that the painter might save time at his work. Once, it is said, he cried like a baby in the office of a local trust company because he had forgotten to add $1.90 on a cost bill, and could not recover it.

Mrs. Stassforth also says that many, many times has he sat on the edge of his bed at night crying as if his heart would break because he had money in the bank that was not drawins interest.

Seldom, if ever, would he permit her to buy fruit for the house. He would purchase it for himself, hide it, and order that nobody touch it. He was always cursing and swearing at his wife and applying insulting epithets that break the heart of a true woman.

LOVED OTHER WOMEN.

LOVED OTHER WOMEN.

Part of the man's cruelty, according to the complaint, was his fondness for other women—one Mrs. Caroline D. Irwin, a mining partner, particularly. It will be remembered that the peace authorities of Arisona recently gave him all kinds of trouble because of alleged relations with Mrs. Irwin at Nogales, where, it was alleged, he occupied the same room with her at Hotel Bellevue. In his answer Stassforth said yesterday that his bunking with Mrs. Irwin only happened on two occasions, when it was impossible for him to get another room anywhere, but that there were two beds fit the room, one of which he occupied alone.

Mrs. Stassforth says her husbaffd would never let her go to church, receive callers or pay visits. Once he went home to find her reading the Bible, whereupon he snatched the holy book from her hands and cursed her and Christ bitterly. Part of the man's cruelty, according Gragg, while employed as assistant to the chief engineer in charge of the machinery, engines and boilers of the hotel, was severely burned during the night time, while blowing off the boilers. The accident, says he, was caused by defective mechanism. Gragg avers that his injuries were so serious that the skin and flesh fell away from the bones of his legs and arms and he has been under the care of physicians ever since. He says he has incurred already an expense of $1000 by his misfortune.

Torrey-Crabbe

Miss Grace Harbison Crabbe, the second daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Henry W. Crabbe, and Prof. Harry Beal Torrey were married last evening in the Second United Presbyterian Church, the ring service being performed by the bride's father, the pastor. The bride was attended by Miss Alice Butler and Clarence Holmes of San Francisco stood with the groom. The duties of usher were performed by Messra. Curtice, De Garmo and B. M. Davis. In the auditorium long sprays of asparagus plumous had been used Messra. Curtice, De Garmo and B. M. Davis. In the auditorium long sprays of asparagus plumosus had been used in overhead decorations, under the skillful management of the ladles of the church, assisted by the Misses Lebus, while each chandeller had been converted into a bower of green with the lights shaded in pink. White laurel and oleanders were used on the altar rail, against a background of green, and a curtain of greenery was suspended in the square doorway that opened into the Sunday-school room, back of the pulpit. In the latter room Prof. A. A. Pond's orchestra was stationed, with Miss Crabbe, the bride's sister, at the organ, and the musical programme rendered previous to the ceremiony changed to the 'Bridal Chorus' from 'Lohengrin' as the bridal party entered, the room. 'Oh, Promise Me' was softly played and sung during the ceremony, and at the conclusion Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March' was given. The bride wore an embroidered cream mull, en traine, the pretty gown having been remodeled from the wedding dress worn by Prof. Torrey's mother. Over this fell a long tulle veil, the tollette being completed by a bouquet of cream roses. The bridesmaid wore pale greem organdy, and carried white centaurias. There were about 300 guests at the church, the ceremony being followed by an informal reception at the home of Rev.

Miss Finn is a beautiful girl, and is possessed of a remarkable voice. Opera is what she is aiming for eventually.

She was "discovered" in a rather curious way. One of the managers of the Chutes saw her on the grounds one day when a girl was needed for one of the concessions. He took a chance and offered her the place. One night the Chutes Theater company quit on short offered her the place. One night the Chutes Theater company quit on short notice, and a vaudeville show was scratched together on twenty minutes notice. She was pressed into service, and sang a song. The Chutes people were surprised to find that she had a wonderful voice.

When Frederick Warde played in Los Angeles last, Miss Finn happened to meet Miss Trescott, who was doing "heavies." The result was this engagement, which is regarded by theater people as a rich plum.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES! BAKERSFIELD, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The survey which was started with so much of a flourish the engineer in charge, turns out to be a pipe-line proposition of the Associated Oil Company. Notwithstanding the denials of some officials of the Associated company, which is a combine formed last spring of many oil companies holding rich lands in the Kern Piper and McKittick districts it has River and McKittrick districts, it has been believed all along that it in-tended building a pipe line to carry its product to the coast, by the shot-Point Richmond, a distance The route just surveyed will not ex-ceed 118 miles, tide-water being reached at Morro Bay, San Luis Obispo

The fact that the survey is not for a The fact that the survey is not for a railroad, but rather for a pipe line, is proved by the route adopted. In the first place, it is as striaght as it is possible to make it, to avoid friction; second, it runs directly across hills and canons in a manner that precludes the construction of a relievad, thirdly the because of friction, but vertical bends are regarded as presenting little difficulty owing to the advantage gained by the syphon which is thus created and these facts clearly show the purpose of the survey just completed. NEAR HERCULES PLANT.

Ground was broken this week for nother local oil refining plant, that is to be made ready for operations at an early date.

The new plant is being built by W. E. Walker and associates, and it will be known as the Bankers' Refinery. Unlike most of the operators now in the field, the new concern will confine its attention to refining light oils. It will be fitted for the manufacturing of high-grade engine, machine, spindle and illuminating oils, for which there is an ever-ready market.

Present plans include the installing of two stills, but provision will be made for increasing the capacity when business will justify that move. It is being built near the Hercules plant.

At the New Franklin plant arrangements are being made for important improvements, as the business of that concern has increased remarkabaly within the past few months.

The Hercules Refining Company also contemplates making quite extensive changes in its establishment. Recently this company levied an assessment of 5 cents a share on its outstanding stock, and already almost $14,000 has been paid into the treasury. Almost $10,000 of that amount will be expended in improvements.

The fact that the Standard Oil Com The fact that the Standard Oil Com-pany has agreed to take all the as-phaltum manufactured by the Indiana company at its new refinery soon to be erected in the Kern River feld, is regarded by oil men as a good sign. Is welcome news to those already engaged or contemplating entering the asphaltum trade as it apparently provides a market, an almost unlimited one, for that product. Instead of independent refiners being compelled to seek out a market for their product, it is very probable that the Standard will be found ready to handle all that the field can produce.

It is also rumored that the Standard may be a willing purchaser of the distillate created in the field refineries. FUEL OIL BOOMING.

The owners' trial trip of the steamer Mariposa was held this week and the Mariposa was held this week and the vessel's new oil-burning furnaces were officially accepted by the Oceanic Steamship Company. The trial was made in San Francisco Bay, and the closest inspection of the new air-compressing system of spraying oil falled to reveal a single point in which the new fuel did not show a maked advantage over coal. The best speed that the Mariposa ever made burning coal was thirteen knots. On the trial trip fifteen and a half knots were registered. It is calculated that a saving of $250 a day will be made in the fuel bill. Commander Stevenson of the United States Navy was on board during the trip, and expressed himself as well pleased.

STILL-WATER FISHING.
LONG BEACH, July 17.—Owing to LONG BEACH, July 17.—Owing to recent poor luck at trolling expeditions two of the launches of the local pleasure fleet tried still-water fishing this morning. The Fleur de Lis and the Helena started early this morning and steamed twelve miles down the coast, where the boats were moored to the kelp. On the Fleur de IIs there were six hand lines out. Clam bait was used and fishing operations were continued till the stock of bait was exhausted. About three hours were spent on the grounds and twenty-nine sheepshead and bass, some of them of uncommon size, were taken. The fish took the bait ravenously and several of them bit so fiercely as to break off the hooks.

The Helena, which was moored near the same place, brought in sixteen fish.

"Why," said he, "I merely took pity on that fellow. He came to me a perfect stranger, claiming that he was at one time Tom Reed's private secretary, and that he wanted employment. He also showed me numerous letters of recommendation, which he said he had received from prominent army officials, but I told bits that army officials, but I told him that didn't care whose secretary he had been; that if he was a good sten-ographer I would try him. Well, it took him to Avaion, where he remained until I had no further use for him ographer I would try him. Well, 1 took him to Avaion, where he remained until I had no further use for him, returning then to Los Angeles. When he left Avaion I told him that I would notify him when I should need his services again. Several days after in Los Angeles, I met Hayes in company with a reporter for the Evening Express. We talked together for a while and then I left them. I knew all along that Hayes had been corresponding with this fellow, but of course paid neattention to it, as I did not consider it any of my business. However, when I detected that newspaper scheme on the 20th, I began to think that there was something wrong somewhere. I bade the messenger boy, who was sitting in front of my door to give me his papers, whereupon he released them. There was the message distended to be the first to parade the system, signed by Samuel T. Clover's name. You see, here they are, just as I secured them from the youngster."

"The fact that so many promises were made to the local press is due to schemes planned by Hayes, which were in no wise presented to me. "We propose to perfect this system before offering it to the public for commercial use, and no matter how long it takes we are going to do it," said Gen. New. "Of course, you understand, we have encountered several setbacks by reason of the fact that some of the apparatus was not exactly what we wanted, and had to be sent to the East, again. This naturally takes a great deal of time, but I don't believe it will be very long now before we are likely had to be sent will be very long now before we are able to open up." SAN PEDRO BREVITIES. It was rumored today that about fifty workingmen had been laid at at the San Pedro Lumber Company's yards. At the office the report was confirmed. One of the company's officials said that the men had only been laid off temporarily, as there were not many ships in port, and they did not need such a large force.

S. J. Wolfe and Miss M. T. Wood, both of Los Angeles, are in town. They have come to San Pedro to establish a music store.

Miss M. Kyle of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. W. K. Bowen of Mess. Ariz., spent several days here this week.
